Dulles Lashes 'Despotism' of Russian Reds

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made a slashing attack on "Soviet Communist despotism" today, assailing its present leaders as "close collaborators" of the late Joseph Stalin and the beneficiaries of his "sadistic" purges.

The recently disclosed secret speech made by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev on the abuses of Stalin's rule, Dulles said "is the most damning indictment of despotism ever made by a despot."

"It should of itself be sufficient," he said, "to make all free peoples shun that type of despotism as they would shun a plague."

At the same time, in a speech prepared for the annual convention meeting of the American International Dulles challenged the Soviet rulers to put to the test in Germany their argument that communism will be freely accepted by non-Communist peoples on its merits.

At the summit conference in Geneva last year, he said, Russia's rulers pledged themselves to let the German people—in East as well as West Germany—have free elections. Dulles said that the 17 millions living in East Germany "know communism at first hand" and most either Germans know it from eyewitness reports.

Yet, he said, since the Geneva meeting the Soviet government has refused to fulfill its promise of free elections because it fears the German people would reject communism and its "so-called social gains" in East Germany.

"Are not the free people entitled to presume," Dulles asked, "that there is something basically wrong about a system that has never been accepted voluntarily by any people and that the Soviet rulers are unwilling to submit to the verdict of the peoples who know it best?"

Church Studies Manpower Shortage

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U)—The mission-minded Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church grappled today with a major manpower shortage in its ranks of ministers and teachers.

The two-million member synod, holding its triennial convention here, has set its sights on establishing 5 new churches annually instead of the present 120.

Also close to the hearts of synod leaders is the goal of enrolling 50 per cent of the synod's children in its parochial schools. The figure now is 37 per cent, one of the highest in Lutheranism.

Delegates underlined their concern over the manpower problem yesterday by approving the principle of assigning no full-time minister to congregations with less than 100 baptized members. The smaller congregations would be served by pastors of larger groups.

U. S. Reports 180 Polio Cases in Week

WASHINGTON (U)—The Public Health Service today said 180 new polio cases were reported last week, only four more than the preceding week.

"The increase was not as much as could have been expected during this period of seasonal rise," a health service spokesman said.

However, again declined comment on whether this reflects use of Salk polio vaccine.

The 180 cases last week compared with 253 for the week a year earlier and 294 for the corresponding 1952 week.

As the weekly report on new cases came out, the health service also announced release of 4,170,591 doses of new vaccine.

This pushed June releases to a record monthly total of 10,979,505 doses. The previous record was 9,510,309 in May.

Got All the Data She Really Needed

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (U)—A motorist applying for a state tag here handed Mrs. Henderson Dodson, license clerk, a slip of paper with the following entries:

Insect spray
Ice cream
License—state license 1334 90
Chicken feed.

Mrs. Dodson read down to the item concerning her, filled out the license form and handed the list back.

"You can keep it," said the motorist. "I've got all the rest of it."

25 Frenchmen Die in Algeria Rebel Ambush

By JOSEPH J. DYNAN

ALGIERS (U)—Nationalist guerrillas claimed a heavy toll on the French today through raids and ambushes launched in the wake of the execution of two rebels in Algeria Tuesday.

Twenty-five Frenchmen, military or civilians, had been killed in the 24 hours ending at noon and 29 were seriously injured. The dead included four French army officers.

One of the ambushes occurred about 25 miles from Sidi Bel Abbes, the Foreign Legion's storied headquarters. A strong band of nationalists jumped a convoy of about 100 legionnaires and five vehicles yesterday.

The group radioed for help and reinforcements were sent to its rescue. The French reported 10 legionnaires killed and seven wounded in the early hours of the battle, which was still going on this morning. Rebel losses were put at four dead.

A raid last night in Algiers, where attackers sprayed pistol fire into cafes and bars, was fatal to four Europeans. Eleven others were wounded. Troops and police killed two of the attackers and captured two.

The action erupted yesterday with the ambush of a legion convoy.

The convoy of about 100 soldiers and five vehicles radioed it was hit in midafternoon and had suffered losses. The French said their troops dug in and fought back, inflicting heavy casualties.

A battalion of legion troops was dispatched to rescue the convoy, but French spokesmen said it was not yet known whether it had reached the fighting.

Neither was a top fighter or a boomtown shark. By an sensible standard this man was a real success. He had done far better than most men throughout mankind's troubled history, which has been a long search for safety, a full stomach, and a warm place out of the cold to dream in for a while. Why should it make him either a better or happier man of he should now go on and pile up enough money to become the richest fellow in his part of the cemetery? What if he doesn't ever get a bigger job? Should that make him feel living has lost its lustre?

For some reason, although middle age has been in the world for quite some time, it catches most people by surprise—and too often with a deep dismay.

The middle-aged wife, whose children are grown and flown, is inclined to brood that she has fulfilled her purpose in life and is no longer needed. The middle-aged husband, recognizing it is now highly unlikely he can ever realize the grandiose dreams of his youth, feels himself a rut-bound prisoner of time.

This "middle age sickness" turns some people crabbed and sour. As any doctor knows, it's to all sorts of maladies in others. Many even lose all zest for life and shrivel to death, like a flower caught by a late frost.

We laugh in this country at older lands that still practice ancestor worship. But older lands than ours laugh at us for two of our commonest religions—success worship and youth worship.

A dream is a great thing to live with, but a poor thing to be killed by. It is refreshing to the spirit to admire the stare on a summer night, but only a child weeps because he cannot clutch them in his hand.

We are doing a lot of "education for living" nowadays. Why doesn't some philanthropic foundation start a project to teach adults

Interposition Doctrine Is Explained

An old concept in American constitutional law, the doctrine of interposition, has been brought out of history and how stands at the center of what is perhaps the most important legal and social issue of our time.

Since the unanimous decision of the United States Supreme Court on May 17, 1954, in the case of Brown v. Board of Education, holding segregation in the public schools of the states unconstitutional, the doctrine of interposition has been mentioned increasingly in the South as a way to circumvent this decision.

On November 21, 1955 the Richmond, Va. News Leader launched an editorial campaign intended to popularize and justify the interposition theory.

The News Leader, attacking what it termed "the degeneracy of constitutional process," urged that the state of Virginia "interpose its sovereignty in a valiant effort to halt the evil" of the Court's decision on segregation in which, the paper stated, had in effect amended the Constitution instead of interpreting it.

This editorial crusade bore fruit almost immediately. On Feb. 1, 1956, the Virginia Legislature adopted a resolution of interposition declaring the segregation decision void by an overwhelming vote.

The states of Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, and Mississippi followed suit rapidly. And the issue of interposition is very much alive in several other Southern states today.

Actually, the doctrine of interposition presents a much broader issue than segregation in the public schools, important as that problem may be.

The fight over interposition is a basic, fundamental conflict about the nature of our federal union, about the meaning of the constitution itself.

Those who advocate interposition adhere to the "compact theory" of the Constitution. That document, these men assert, was an agreement between sovereign states to set up a general government with well-defined and strictly limited powers, with all other powers "reserved to the states respectively or to the people."

When the federal government commits an act in violation of the Constitution, in other words, when it exercises powers in excess of those granted it by that agreement, then the states are bound to "interpose their sovereignty" between the general government and the people to prevent the execution of the illegal act.

Basically, those who support the doctrine of interposition contend that the states individually, and not the Supreme Court of the United States, are final arbiters of grave constitutional questions.

Opponents of interposition base their contentions on the theory that the federal government derives its constitutional powers not from the sovereign states, but directly from the people of the country as a whole.

They cite as authorities for their views the opinions of Chief Justice John Marshall and Associate Justice Joseph Story, who, in the early part of the nineteenth century in a series of strongly worded opinions, upheld the power of the national government.

Opponents of interposition insist that the United States Supreme Court and not the states is the final judge of constitutional issues. In support of this claim they point to the provision in Article Three of the original constitution, that the Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction over "all cases arising under this constitution."

Advocates of interposition have already been successful in five Southern states, Arkansas and Texas may be the next to face this momentous issue.

Interposition, it should be remembered, is by no means a new and strange legal concept cooked up on the spur of the moment to avoid integration.

The first interpositionists numbered in their ranks such greats of American history as Thomas Jefferson and James Madison.

The next article in this series will describe how these two men, protesting against what they regarded as excessive exercise of power by the federal government, formulated the doctrine of interposition to stop that encroachment on the right of the states.

Sheriffs Want to Ban Search Warrant

AKRON, Ohio (AP) The nation's sheriffs want an amendment to the Constitution that would permit them to gather certain types of evidence without a search warrant.

The National Sheriffs' Association also went on record at the annual convention yesterday in favor of legalizing the tapping of telephone wires.

They said both measures would aid law enforcement.

The sheriffs also advocated a uniform traffic code for the 48 states which now have only one license plate for automobiles adopt the dual plate required in other states.

H. P. Gleason, 59, of Oakland, Calif., was elected president of the organization.

The vice presidents included Robert S. Moore of Arkansas City, Ark., seventh vice president.

Petitions Have Enough Signatures

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Petitions for a proposed constitutional amendment on judicial salaries have about 6,000 more signatures than required Secretary of State C. G. Hall said yesterday.

Hall said the petitions, filed last week, contain 41,316 signatures. The proposal will be placed on the November general election ballot. It aims to lift the present $7,200 a year limit on judges' salaries by giving the legislature authority to fix the pay.

Judge Reports No Complaints

HOT SPRINGS (AP) Judge M. C. Lewis Jr. reports that one of his cases—a marital triangle—was settled out of court. In fact, right outside the courtroom.

The wife had been accused of making telephone threats to another woman. The judge took no punitive action, but admonished the two women to leave each other alone.

Wife, hubby and the other woman left the courtroom together. Seconds later, there was the sound of a vigorous slap delivered, a witness told the court, by the "other woman."

No further complaints.

HE'S SORRY

LONDON (UP) — Irish Playwright Brendan Behan said the British Broadcasting Corp. was quite correct in saying he had a couple of drinks before he was interviewed on a recent television program.

"I had a bottle of good Irish whisky inside me when I went to the TV studios," he said. "It was an awful experience and I'm sorry."

Allen-Hart
Vows Pledged at Emmet Methodist Church

Miss Patricia Nell Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Allen of Gurdon and Joe Sherrell Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hart of Laneburg exchanged marriage vows at 3 p. m. Sunday, June 17 in the First Methodist Church in Emmet.

Rev. Earl Allen of Lufkin, Texas, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony before a white wrought iron arch, entwined with greenery and white stock, interspersed with cathedral tapers in eight branched candelabras, with floor baskets of white stock and greenery of huckleberry.

Miss Paula Edwards, cousin of the bride, and Miss Betty Lou Hart of Hope, niece of the groom, dressed in identical ballerina length dresses of blue nylon organza over taffeta with matching bandeau served as candlelighters.

The traditional wedding music was provided by Miss Elsie Gentry organist. Mrs. Watson Wells sang, "Because," "Oh Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of nylon tulle and chantilly lace over bridal satins. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned on lines of classic simplicity with a high neckline and illusion yoke with small lace collar, fastened with tiny covered lace buttons down the back and glove fitting sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. The full tulle overskirt with points of lace insertion was drawn back into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with bridal bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Jean Ross of Emmet served as maid of honor. Her waltz length dress of blue net over taffeta was fashioned with a scoop neckline and full skirt. She wore a matching bandeau and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations. Miss Alice Gilbert of Emmet, Miss Gloria Jean Smith of Alabaster, Alabama, cousin of the bride, Mrs. John Hall of Camden and Mrs. Gill Gentry of Shreveport, Louisiana were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses as the maid of honor in white net over taffeta with matching bandeaus. They carried blue colonial bouquets of carnations.

Billy Clark Fairchild served as best man. Master Jimmy Dickerson of Prescott, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Little Miss Judy Allen was her sister's junior bridesmaid. She wore a dress of white net over taffeta similar to the bridesmaid with matching bandeau and carried a small colonial bouquet of blue carnations. Little Miss Sandra Kay Hart, niece of the groom, was dressed in blue organza over taffeta, fashioned as the other attendants, carried a basket of rose petals. Ushers were: Gary Allen, brother of the bride, Billy Don Vaden of Little Rock, nephew of the groom, Donald Webb of Prescott, cousin of the bride, and Herbert Dickerson, uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Allen, mother of the bride wore a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Hart, mother of the groom, wore a mauve silk shantung dress with white accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

The table holding the beautifully decorated four tiered wedding cake was covered with a white linen cloth over pink linen, held an arrangement of pink carnations with pink tapers. Mrs. Paul Edwards, aunt of the bride, served the cake and Miss Ophelia Thompson poured the punch. Miss Janice Miller of Magnolia presided over the bride's bouquet.

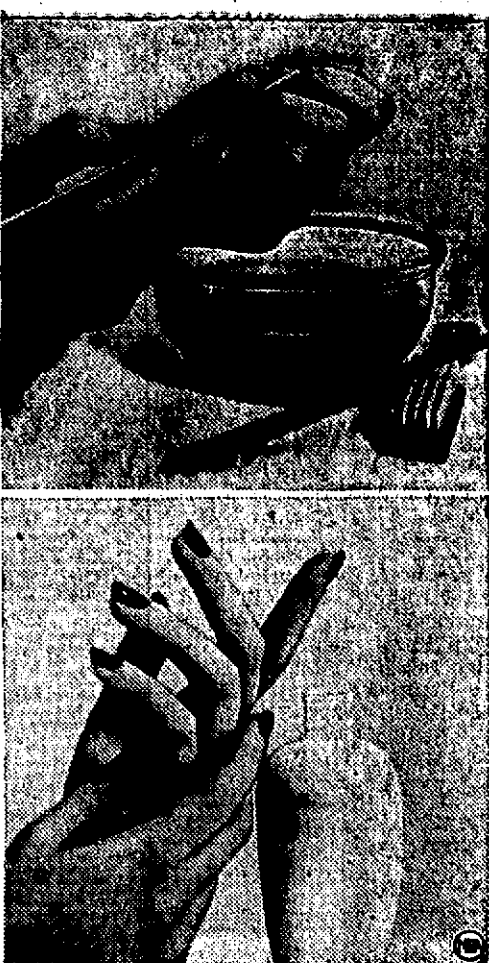

For travel the bride wore an ice blue silk shantung dress with matching accessories. She pinned a white orchid at her shoulder from her bridal bouquet. After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the couple will be at home in Crossett, where Mr. Hart is affiliated with the Crossett Paper Company, and Mrs. Hart will teach in Crossett High School.

Out of town guests: Rev. and Mrs. Earl Allen, Lufkin, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Theo Carey, Shreveport, Louisiana; Mrs. Thomas De-woody and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jay, Pat, Linda and Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Odie Dehan, Mrs. Edgar Sutton and Nelda, Mrs. Henry Thompson, Butch, and Mary Beth, Mrs. Jimmy Hightight, Mrs. R. B. Mormon, Mrs. M. T. Clark, Mrs. Evelyn Taylor, Linda and Marilyn, all of Gurdon.

Mrs. C. D. Dodson and Nona Beth, Miss Janice Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Harrods, Mr. Jim Newton, Mr. G. S. Crank, Mr. Joe Sissons, of Magnolia, Mrs.

Summertime projects such as gardening and painting the front porch can be hard on a woman's fingernails. A thorough manicure using professional techniques and equipment keeps hands lovely in summer. The old polish is first removed with an oily remover. Nails are then shaped with emery board. Nails are soaked (top center) one hand at a time in warm, soapy water. After application of lubricating lotion, cuticles are shaped (top right) with an orange stick. After fingernails are rinsed, nail polish (bottom center) is applied, working from cuticle to tip. Hand lotion (bottom right) is last step.

DOROTHY DIX

Go Slow With Fly Boy
Aspiring Writer
Not the Permanent Type

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a young woman of 21, divorced and the mother of a 4-year-old daughter. I married very young and made an unwise choice I've been divorced two years and in that time have more wild flings than most girls have in a lifetime. This spring I met an exceptional man, one I can really trust, respect and admire. He has tamed me down to being a quiet, respectable person again, and to tell the truth I like things much better this way. He loves me, wants to marry me, but there is an 18-year gap between us.

He's afraid I'm too young to be tied down to a man so much older. Another thing is that it's a bit hard to convince him I am really a home-type girl.

Sam loves children, is devoted to my little girl, as she is to him. He has a fine position. I know everyone could be happy if Sam's qualms could be overcome.

ELOISE
Dear Eloise: Your attitude and behavior are the important things and how, in a few short months, can you change from a careless carefree lass to a settled-down domestic type? How do you know you have so many inmate homey qualities when you've never tried to exercise them? How do you know cooking, housework, baby care won't bore you?

Sam's established financial position isn't enough to accomplish a miracle. Being a housewife is a tough job, and it needs more preparation than the mere promise, "I can do it."

A warning up period is needed here. Don't become engaged just yet. Give yourselves a chance to become acquainted and as your friendship grows, so will Sam's confidence in you. This is what he needs to overcome all doubts, but you need the purpose and determination to have him believe in you. With so much to gain, can you do it?

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a woman in my late forties and, as I like to travel, do quite a bit of it by itself. I have been told this is not in good taste. What do you think?

HAPPY TRAVELER
Dear Traveler: Do all the traveling you want to, the more the better. Even Europe is considered a happy hunting ground for a lone sightseer. Send me a card if you get there.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Although I am a very attractive girl of 21, I am hard of hearing, which is the cause of all my unhappiness. I never have dates. Boys are just friendly to me. Is it because of my handicap?

UNHAPPY
Dear Unhappy: Hearing aids are made so attractive, and can be worn so inconspicuously, that I

Says Elvis Has Absolutely No Talent

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — An open letter to Steve Allen:

Dear Steve: Word comes to this department that you're planning to book Elvis Presley, the hysterical shout-er of rock 'n' roll, for your Sunday evening, July 1, Why?

Until now I've refrained from joining in the chorus of public and critical condemnation of Presley's primitive exhibition on the Milton Berle show. A couple of weeks ago, my theory is that characters like Presley thrive on a bad press. The more they're condemned, the more people are aroused to watch and listen to them.

Obviously, however, my thinking that something unpleasant would go away if ignored was wishful and foolish. For now, soon, you apparently plan to bring Elvis the Elvis back to a national television network to titillate teenage girls and cause numbskull boys to imitate him. I'm not taking a moral stand in this case. Better watchdogs than I already have bayed a warning and the apatrols are out. My purpose in asking why you're booking Presley has another basis. Your television career has been marked by a high sense of humor and a great respect for talent. Presley certainly is not funny—though that is not my complaint against him. My argument against his appearance is simply a lack of talent. I can't for the life of me see why you want to have such an untalented buy on your program.

A very small but very nosy minority of the immature have been infected in recent years by the digga-boom convulsions known as rock 'n' roll. There is no talent involved in their rigorous efforts at self-torture. Possibly you feel that Presley should put on one of his performances on your program because he is somehow an "American" phenomenon. There are lots of American phenomena. One, for example, is Niagara Falls. You could train TV cameras on the Falls for five minutes and you'd have a phenomenon all right—but you wouldn't have much of an audience left. Because the Falls, for television purposes, are untalented and noisy and all wet.

What Some Noted Folks Are Saying

WASHINGTON — Robert B. McLean, recently resigned Farmers Home Administrator, charges he carried on a kissing game with married women at a Montana party in 1954. "I simply don't believe in that even if I were drunk."

OXFORD, England — Former President Truman, in his first outspoken comment on foreign policy since starting his two-month tour of Europe: "As things stand, our only guarantee of peace in the world is the power of the free world to strike back. But this is a poor way of doing business..."

ESTES PARK, Colo. — Elmer W. Boyd, on how it felt to be swept 175 feet over Chasm Falls west of Estes Park: "I remember being in the water at the top of the falls. But I must have hit my head on a rock in the first few feet. I don't remember anything else."

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Dr. William Sears, archaeologist of the state museum at Gainesville, on how he and other scholars want advance knowledge on highway construction routes so they can salvage Indian relics ahead of the bulldozers: "We promise to do our work and get out before we get in any body's hair."

NEW YORK — A steel industry spokesman, on chances of settling the wage dispute between the steel workers union and the steel companies: "There will have to be some real old-fashioned horse trading in the joint negotiations if a strike is to be averted."

Braves in First Place; Mantle
Swats 2 Homers

By ED WILKS

What is it with Fred Haney? He takes over from Charlie Grimm, who resigned as Milwaukee manager under fire after losing of 17 to tumble from first to fifth, and four days later the Braves are leading the National League again.

The Braves haven't lost since Haney, who never finished better than last in three other shots as NL skipper, reluctantly took over in Brooklyn last Saturday night. They made it five in a row last night, completing a sweep of three from the plunging Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3 to move back into the top spot as last place Philadelphia junked Cincinnati's hold on the lead 3-2.

That caused yet another revision in the hectic NL standings, giving Milwaukee a 13-point edge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who snapped a three-game losing streak with a 4-2 decision over St. Louis. The Cards held fourth, 2 points back of the Redlegs, who in turn are 2 points behind the Braves.

The Pirates, with five straight defeats, are fifth, but still very much in contention—only one game behind the Braves.

New York's Gants reclaimed sixth place from Chicago, beating the Cubs 4-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees made it seven-in-a-row as Micky Mantle jolted his 26th and 27th home runs in a 4-1 verdict over Detroit. The Chicago White Sox held second, 1/2 games behind with a decision over Baltimore. Cleveland ended a third place tie with Boston by topping the Red Sox 5-4 in 10 innings. Washington came from behind to beat Kansas City 5-4.

The Braves have been playing like most folks figured they could since Haney took charge. Question is, why? He's the same type of "nice guy" manager as was Grimm—and in his 15 years as a pilot, he's had only one pennant winner Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League in 1952.

In the majors he was last in three tries with the Pirates, who released him after last season, and was no better than sixth in three years as field boss of the old St. Louis Browns in the AL.

Haney, 53, hasn't juggled the Braves' lineup or junked Grimm's pitching order, but he's had results. Gene Conley, for instance, pitched his first complete game since last July 10 for his second victory last night while Dany O'Connell and Bobby Thomson each batted in a pair of runs as the Braves scored five in the fifth to beat Vern Law.

Curt Simmons, winning his third choked off the homer-sucking Redlegs on seven singles while the Phils, with just six hits, beat Art Flower on Stan Lopata's 12th home run.

The Dodgers scored three in the third with Cri Furillo lining a two-run double to beat the Cards and Wilmer Mizell, third lefty to start against the Brooks this season and first to start last August 20. Roger Craig won his sixth, with Clem Labine relieving in the ninth. Second baseman Charley Neal turned Stan Musial's hard bases-loaded smash into a force out in the ninth to end it.

Hank Thompson swatted his first 1956 home run with two on to beat the Cubs and Don Kaiser while Al Worthington won his third.

Mantle, batting righthanded for both his shots off southpaw Billy Holt sent the two homers on 400-foot-plus rides to go 18 games up on Babe Ruth's 60-homer pace of 1927. Andy Carey smacked a two-run homer in the sixth for the deciding runs after Holt had retired the first 15 men he faced.

Johnny Kucks won his ninth with Whitey Ford, sidelined with a wrenched back, coming back to pitch the last 1-3 innings.

Al Rosen's single drove in the big run for the Indians to beat reliever Tom Hurd. Gene Woodling had tied it with a sole homer in the eighth. Jackie Jensen homered with one on in the first off Tribe lefty Herb Score, who fanned 10 in his six innings. Don Messinger won it in relief.

Chicago used five pitchers and the Orioles seven-two short of the AL's two-team record—and the White Sox led it with four runs in the sixth. Chicago had 15 hits. Baltimore 12.

Washington put together an error, two walks and a sacrifice fly in the ninth to beat the A's who fell into the cellar with their 19th defeat in 25 home games this season.

Satterfield
Soundly Licks
Summerlin

By JERRY LISK

CHICAGO (UP)—A boxing "dud" who keeps exploding. Chicago's Bob Satterfield today drew a bead on a heavyweight match with equally unpredictable Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson.

Satterfield, a 3-1 underdog, last night pounded an end to young Johnny Summerlin's 12-bout winning streak with a unanimous 10-round decision here.

The 32-year-old Satterfield, out-weighted by 11 pounds, nearly knocked Summerlin out of the ring in the third round with ponderous rights and then went on to win by a substantial margin.

Satterfield weighed 183 against Summerlin's 194.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said he favored a Satterfield-Jackson meeting this fall because of their "interesting styles."

Satterfield's third-round explosion, a series of five terrific rights to the head, sent the 24-year-old Summerlin sprawling through the ropes onto the ring apron. The bell sounded at the count of seven and it was doubtful whether the Detroit batter could have remained in business if the rest period gong hadn't sounded.

The defeat was Summerlin's fifth in 37 pro starts and knocked out his chance for a match with Pittsburgh's Bob Baker in the elimination series for Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight crown.

Mantle Shows He Can Furnish His Own Power

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—One of the American League's best southpaws decided to let Mickey Mantle supply his own power, and the magnetic Yankee slugger responded with dramatic suddenness and had power to burn.

Billy Hoelt, the Detroit Tigers' leading pitcher, fed the New York Yankee centerfielder two change-up pitches in last night's game before 47,756 enthusiastic fans at Briggs Stadium.

The 24-year-old Mantle, who has exhausted every superlative with his home run feats, churned both pitches far over the stadium fences to lead the pace-setting lumberers to a 4-1 victory.

They were his 26th and 27th home runs and put him comfortably ahead of the pace set by Babe Ruth when he clubbed a record 60 home runs in 1927. Ruth did not hit No. 27 until July 8.

The heir-apparent to Ruth's title of the Sultan of Swat hit the home runs right handed. Only six of his 27 round trippers have been hit from that side of the plate.

Mantle, who had driven a fast ball out of the park two days earlier, went hitless in his first two trips last night. But both times he hit the ball solidly, grounding out to third and lining to centerfield.

After Andy Carey's two-run blast in the sixth, Mantle stroked one of Hoelt's change-ups high and

Man Electrocutes Wife in Bathtub

NUERNBERG, Germany (UP)—Paul Alt, a 56-year-old store keeper, confessed to electrocuting his wife with a light cord while he scrubbed her back in the bathtub, police reported yesterday.

His wife Pauline, 51, was found last week in the tub, her back badly burned. Alt told police a heavy basin of boiling water must have fallen on her.

But under questioning he confessed he electrocuted her in the tub with the raw end of a light cord. He told police he wanted to marry a younger girl and knew the plan would work because he already had killed his dog that way.

HE DID

OSYKA, Miss. (AP)—Reports of a jet plane crash near the rural community of Chatawa brought Mississippi Highway Patrol search parties and three Coast Guard aircraft.

It ended when the Highway Patrol found a girl who told them her boy friend planned to buzz her home.

"We think he did," a patrolman said.

Both drives carried well over the 400-foot mark.

When Mantle returned to centerfield after his second home run, a pair of young boys leaped over the high fence in centerfield and raced to meet him. Mantle shook hands with each of them before they were chased.

In the ninth inning, dozens of fans caught on and poured out from all areas of the spacious stadium and onto the playing field. He shook as many hands as he could in the few moments that elapsed before park attendants and umpires could restore order.

Quick-thinking groundskeepers averted a more serious display after the game when they turned on the vast sprinkling system.

Around The World

LONDON (UP)—Scotland Yard feared today a major gang war is about to break out in a section of London known as the "square mile of vice."

Police have increased their forces in the international Soho section because of a series of fights and slappings between rival gangs struggling for control of horse race bookmaking districts.

Members of parliament were reported considering asking the government to clamp down on the gangs and clean up Soho.

The section is composed largely of foreign restaurants, markets and nightclubs just off Piccadilly Circus.

The latest outbreak came last night when a friend of one of London's former gang leaders was attacked with knives and razors in the plush Mayfair section.

The victim, Tommy Falco, had to be given 47 stitches. He is a pal of Billy Hill, the self-styled "king of Soho."

The attack came only a few hours after a London judge sentenced two men to even years apiece for attacking a bookmaker's clerk with hammers, a shillelagh, a knife and blackjacks.

The judge said the case "sounds like Chicago in the worst days of prohibition rather than London in 1956."

HEIDELBERG, Germany, (UP)

The midnight curfew of early occupation days was back in force for U. S. soldiers in Heilbronn today because city officials complained about the conduct of American troops.

The order followed an emergency conference between Lt. Gen. Harry Storke, Ninth Infantry division commander, and Heilbronn Mayor Paul Meyle.

Meyle earlier had refused an Army social invitation because "the citizens would never understand if I accepted it after the incidents here."

An army spokesman said no punishment was planned for any of the soldiers. In fact, an official spokesman would not admit there even were any incidents.

He said that the curfew was imposed "in order that closer supervision of the off-duty activities of the soldiers could be exercised."

PARIS (UP)—The first full-scale NATO air defense exercise in Southern Europe and the Mediterranean since 1953 will be held next week, supreme headquarters announced yesterday.

The exercise will mesh air, sea and ground units of six nations in maneuvers extending from France to Turkey. It will be the first NATO air exercise in which all defending fighter squadrons will be flying jets.

Chattanooga beat Little Rock 14-12 and made it seven in a row. Atlanta hung onto fourth place by trimming New Orleans 5-4.

Truman Gets Degree With Tears in Eyes

By EDDY GILMORE

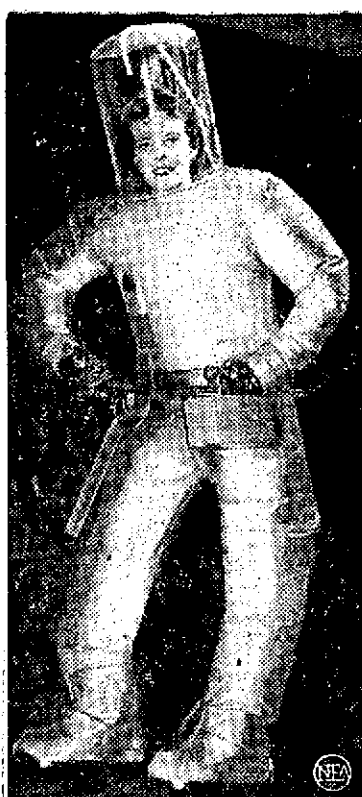

OXFORD, England (AP)—Harry S. Truman, who was too poor to go to college, today received an honorary degree from Oxford, one of the world's most distinguished universities.

Tears filled the eyes of the former U. S. President when Lord Halifax, chancellor of the university, conferred the degree of doctor of civil laws with this eulogy:

"Truest of allies, direct in your speech and in your writings, and ever a pattern of simple courage."

Truman smiled, choked up and then quickly whipped out a handkerchief and blew his nose.

"Never, never in my life," he whispered to a reporter, "did I ever think I'd be a Yank at Oxford."

TOMORROW TODAY—No space girl, she. Sally Davis is modeling a pressurized, air-conditioned fashion for today's laboratory and industrial worker who might be exposed to harmful radiation. Of vinyl film, the suit is a creation of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. Sally's handbag is a Geiger counter.

roused a round of loud laughter when he referred to Truman's sensational election to the presidency in 1948 when public opinion polls predicted his defeat.

Referring to Thomas E. Dewey, Truman's Republican opponent, the orator said Virgil may help in describing his plight.

"The seers saw not your defeat, poor soul."

"Vain prayers, vain promises—vain Gallus poll."

Truman, who had been shown an English translation, shook with laughter.

Ten drugs developed within the last 20 years are credited with saving as many as 10,000,000 lives.

Lutherans Open False Doctrine Case

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The two million member Lutheran Church Missouri Synod today opened a searching examination into charges of false doctrine brought against it by two other Lutheran synods.

Addressing the opening session of the synod's national convention, Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis, Mo., synod president, declared if the charges can be substantiated "on the basis of scripture, they should be acknowledged and corrected."

But if they cannot be proved, he said, they should be withdrawn. The accusations were brought by the Wisconsin and Norwegian synods after the Missouri group adopted one part of the Common Confession, a doctrinal agreement with the American Lutheran Church, and took a stand in favor of military chaplains and troops.

The so-called part two of the "common confession" comes up for final approval at the current convention.

Missouri Synod delegates also will have to decide:

Whether to accept an invitation to join the Lutheran World Federation.

Whether to join the Augustana Lutheran Church and the United Lutheran Church in America in negotiations aimed at ultimate organic union.

What to do about a proposed doctrinal agreement with the American Lutheran Church, which is preparing to merge with two other Lutheran bodies.

Dr. Behnken did not discuss the Augustana-UCLA and Lutheran World Federation invitations except to say they would be considered by floor committees.

On internal church activities, he reported that financial contributions of synod members reached an all-time high in 1955 but said much remains to be done if the synod is to reach the goal of enrolling 50 per cent of its children in parochial school in 1970.

Says China Wants to Discuss Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The official Central News Agency presided today that Red China's rubber-stamp Parliament at its current session would offer the Nationalists "peaceful negotiations" to settle the future of Formosa.

The agency rejected the offer in advance, saying it would be too ridiculous to merit comment.

Central News said such a move by the People's Congress, which opened its third session in Peiping June 15, would be "part of the campaign of the Soviet masters of Red China to delude the world by false vistas of peace."

Estes Would Gladly Run in No. 2 Post

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Associates of Sen. Estes Kefauver "are convinced" that the Tennessee senator would be willing to "run in the No. 2 place on the national ticket," the Chattanooga Times said today.

The senator's associates are "equally convinced of his preference for (Adlai) Stevenson over (Averell) Harriman," the newspaper said.

In a dispatch from his Washington correspondent Charles Bartlett, the Times said, "Kefauver would bolster a Stevenson ticket because of his unchallengeable popularity in the Farm Belt, where Stevenson is the weakest."

Bartlett wrote that "a close scrutiny of Sen. Estes Kefauver's post-California words and actions suggests two things:

"1. That he is likely to prove responsive to any invitation that may develop at the Democratic convention to run in the No. 2 place on the national ticket.

"2. That if he arrives at the convention in a position to trade delegates for vice presidential preference, he will be more inclined to assist in the formation of a Stevenson-Kefauver than a Harriman-Kefauver ticket."

Big Torque of the Best Sellers

IT WOULD stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications.

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

You find that any '56 Buick with advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* delivers a higher torque ratio than any standard-production car in America.

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from. For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflo, for example, brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The new V8 engine is 322-cubic-inches big, and packed with the highest horsepowers, the highest compressions in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—a new steering magic—a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do is come see for yourself. That way you can also look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Adlai Leads Pack in Strength

By The Associated Press

Adlai Stevenson continued to lead the pack today in Democratic National Convention vote strength but still had less than half the delegates needed for the presidential nomination.

A new Associated Press tabulation of pledges and expressed first ballot preferences gave Stevenson 30 1/2, Sen. Estes Kefauver 18 1/2 and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York 11 1/2. A total of 88 1/2 votes is needed for nomination. Harriman's total rose yesterday with the naming by the New York Democratic State Committee of a 12-vote at-large group to complete the state's 38-vote delegation. The apparent division in the delegation is 8 1/2 first-ballot votes for Harriman and 6 1/2 for Stevenson.

Other Democratic presidential possibilities represented in the tabulation were Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas with 57 votes, Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, 54 1/2; Sen. Symington of Missouri, 48 1/2; Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, 44; others 13 and 358 uncommitted. Democrats have yet to name delegates with 224 votes.

Republicans have picked 1,179 of their 1,323 convention delegates. Some 1,108 favor renomination of President Eisenhower and only 662 are needed for the nomination. Others favor Eisenhower with a state "favorite son" holding the votes for him.

The newest poll showed Stevenson picking up a few votes in rechecks in Illinois, West Virginia and elsewhere, putting him a little further in front of Kefauver.

Harriman—who did not announce until Stevenson and Kefauver had fought a number of primary battles, and engaged in no primaries himself—picked up 11 1/2 new votes in his home state.

Cotton, Rice Doing Fine

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Cotton and rice crops are doing well in Arkansas, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said yesterday.

The service said recent rains have provided enough moisture for most Arkansas areas.

It reported that soybeans have been described in many counties as the best in history and that tomato, Irish potato and peach harvests are gaining momentum.

CHAPTER XXVIII

An hour later they were together again and had covered seven of the miles on the return. Looking across the flats toward headquarters they saw a red in the sky, a red that signified the glow of fire. Scalding anger bit into Frank then as he saw Drury lay a quirt to his tired horse.

Drury was thinking now that Rickety, asleep on his bunk, would be unable to escape the flames. And if the ranch was on fire it wasn't by accident. Norring had struck, and in a way Frank wouldn't have believed.

A mile further they were able to see the flames racing skyward. The fire had already burned itself pretty low. It had been confined.

Frank saw, to the main building, the log house; and Frank felt a swift relief for Rickety. Had there been a wind no building on the flat would have been spared.

Frank turned to Swenson and the kid riding with him behind the herd. "The old night pasture," he said and motioned with his arm. "Alex, stay with them till we relieve you."

Swenson nodded too and helped the kid swing the string around.

Rickety had drawn the blankets from his bunk and sat huddled in these in the captain's chair beside the window. The rifle they had left with him was lined out across the window sill.

Tod Drury was remarkably changed since relieved of his worry. Truculence shown in his angry brown face and the hard casing with which he cloaked himself by habit was back.

"Don't you know enough to stay in bed?"

"And let Rafter burn to the ground?" Rickety snorted. He set his raw and battered features toward Tod. "Bad enough he got his chance at the log house before I heard him. If I hadn't got in a shot he'd sure have ruined the barn and bunkhouse too."

"Who was it, Rickety?" Jean asked. "Milo Hackett?"

"I ain't dead sure. I only saw the back of him moving around in the brush. I reckon my bullet missed him, 'cause I heard his horse crossing the bridge later."

"We'll leave at dawn. I'll have to take Jean with us, but I don't know what to do about Rickety."

Jean was standing watching the dying flames, her eyes wide as they took in the destruction.

She threw her head back against his chest standing that way with the fiery flow lighting her hair. She had stopped crying and he knew she was finished with that for good. But the hurt was still there.

His arms drew her in. This time the old, dead fires stayed in the past and Janet didn't haunt him. Jean was not like any woman he had ever known. She went deeper into him. She would not be washed out by time or by any amount of riding, or by misery. This he knew as he drew her to him. Her arms were pulling him closer in return.

She kept her face buried against his chest so he could barely see her expression. But her eyes were closed. The fragrance of her hair was in his nostrils.

"In the morning we'll ride," he promised simply.

She looked at him with a peculiar smile. "Me too, Frank?"

"You too. There just ain't any place where I can hide you."

Norring was in his house on B Street behind the bank when Hackett came to him. His first reaction was one of shock as he took in Hackett's condition. None of this showed on his face, as ever. Nervousness caused him to shift the cigar Jack Bamfort had given him from one corner of his mouth to the other, that was all.

"Sit down. Sit down, Milo," he invited calmly.

Milo Hackett waved the invitation roughly aside. "You know what they did Took the horses! you told me to go up there to the pasture. Well, I was too late. They'd set an ambush."

"I know," Norring said mildly. "Shortly stopped by to tell me Tay-hern was shot. I'm sorry—Doc's still out of town."

Hackett was not much interested in his wounded crewman. He was scowling darkly. Long before he reached Cashtown he had made up his mind he wasn't going to tell about the fire on Rafter C. Let Steve suspect if he wanted, he'd never tell him for sure. He said sourly,

"I rode after that bunch as far as Rafter C. They'd been raided too and the old fellow, Rickety, was hurt. There wasn't a sound horse on the spread."

"Go on," Norring said, impatiently now.

"Emmett Cash's got them all. He was showing them along the trail to Yates's place when I lit out for Cashtown."

Hackett read relief in Norring's face. It was almost as though they'd won a victory.

"This is the chance I've waited for, Milo. This will bring Chantry off the fence and line him up on my side, or we'll have a new sheriff very shortly." Norring's face went dark, and then he added, "Milo, you've been having a lot of bad luck, lately. It happens to any man once in awhile, but it had better not stay too long with him. Your luck has been no good since the drifter came. He's got to be put out of the way. Have you got a man who won't blunder on this job?"

Hackett felt his blood suddenly leap, his scowl biting deeper into his face. "I don't send anybody to do my chores. I tried it once, and I'll do it next time."

"All right, but don't make another mistake."

Hot Weather on First Day of Summer

By The Associated Press

Today is the first day of the summer weather, hot and humid, again today from the Rockies to the Appalachians.

Most of the Northeast enjoyed a respite from the recent hot spell. Cooler air moved southward along the East Coast, dropping temperatures as far south as northern Florida.

The summer season officially starts at 5:24 a. m., EST, tomorrow.

Severe weather was reported in sections of the mid-continent swelter belt. Thunderstorms, heavy showers, damaging wind storms and tornadic winds struck area in the middle and upper Mississippi valleys and Northern plains.

Heaviest rainfall was reported in parts of South Dakota and west central Illinois. Falls measured nearly 4 inches at Plankinton, S. D., and nearly 3 inches in Illinois last night. Thunderstorms this morning were mostly in an area along the Mississippi River from St. Louis to Grantsburg, Wis., but also extended into west central Illinois, southern Iowa and northwestern Missouri.

Temperatures in the Great Lakes region were 8 to 12 degrees higher this morning than 24 hours earlier and headed for the 90 mark.

Temperatures were mostly in the 80s and 70s in the cooler Eastern areas yesterday but they were in the 90s from Georgia westward south of the Ohio Valley into the plains. Readings hit 100 in Kansas and in the high 90s as far north as Miles City, Mont.

Says Farmers Have Plenty Inducement

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said today that American farmers have more inducements than ever before to rebuild the productive capacities of their land.

"Their government," he said, "is offering cash help, tax relief, technical guidance as well as other forms of assistance."

"Far-sighted farmers will fully restate their farm and ranch management plans before laying out their crop programs for 1957 and the years ahead. There is great opportunity to build savings and banking accounts in their land for their future security and prosperity." Morse gave this picture of farming possibilities in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Joint Committee on Grassland Farming and the American Society of Agricultural Engineering.

The undersecretary said the new soil bank program—with its annual offer of $1,200,000,000 in payments to farmers—provides a vehicle for rebuilding crop land and forests to meet needs of the future. He said those needs 20 years from now may be 30 per cent greater than today.

WYATT EARP HURT

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hugh O'Brien, television's Wyatt Earp, suffered a severely cut eye last night in a two-car auto collision. He was released from St. John's Hospital after getting six stitches in the eyelid.

TOPEKA, Kan. — The Rev. Ernest Christian Sibberson, 70, Lutheran minister who had preached to the deaf in sign language since 1923, touring a circuit of several Kansas cities, died yesterday. He was born in Niebuell, Gerthay.

PASADENA, Calif. — Cecil H. Gable, 72, grandson of one of the founders of Proctor and Gamble and a long-time official of the soap-making firm, died yesterday.
